About Us

Darren Keenan
Director

Brentwood Mission Critical is an independent specialist service provided by the Brentwood Group. We have the resource and experience to provide Mission Critical Infrastructure upgrade designs, project management and added value expertise to Telco, Co-Lo and Data Centre Owners. Our Mission Critical specialists allow us to deliver complex infrastructure upgrades projects to existing facilities.

Our clients face tough challenges, so we work to understand and solve them by matching the complexity of these challenges with the diversity of our expertise, spanning all phases of the development life cycle; design, build, operation and management of the existing Mission Critical Infrastructure.

This experience allows us to deliver innovative designs and solutions. The result of our work is not just a single solution but an outcome in which circumstances are dramatically changed for the better.

Services

Our specialist team focus on the upgrade / replacement sector, where we have unique challenges to find bespoke engineering solutions to upgrade or retrofit within live environments. We have a very hands on approach; considering changeovers, switching strategies, contingency plans and temporary solutions to ensure a well-managed engineered solution without any downtime.

Our core services include >

- Mission Critical Design
- Planning & Consulting
- Program Management.
- Risk Management & Resilience
- Technical Services
- Cost / Budget Management

Experience across the UK & internationally.

Hands on approach.

Continuous portfolio of live projects.
